

Reading Matter for the Barefoot Area

For the Hallenbad City in Zurich, the artist Pia Lanzinger has created a work that lends the newly renovated swimming pool a literary dimension. Quotes about swimming woven into towels accompany the guests and are distributed spatially throughout the pool premises with them. The 18 different texts invite guests to embark on an intellectual excursion into very different modern life-worlds, while revealing the indoor swimming pool to be a hub of cultural, social and sporting life in Zurich.

Reading Matter for the Barefoot Area,
Towels with woven literature quotes,
18 motifs in three colours, magenta, blue, green;
140 x 70 cm, Hallenbad City Zurich

First prize in the art-in-architecture competition by the City of Zurich in the framework of the renovation of the Hallenbad City, reopening of the swimming pool in 2013

